

Here are a few things you should ponder about Islam:

1. If the Quran is truly the word of Allah, why would asking questions about it cause you to lose faith? (See Surah 5:101-102).
2. If Allah leads people astray, is it “justice” that Allah should then punish them for that? (See Surah 5:41, 7:155, 14:4, 16:53 and 6:149)
3. If Satan cannot harm anyone except with Allah’s permission, doesn’t that mean that all harm that comes to a person is Allah’s will? (See Surah 58.10 )
4. If Jesus had no sin (See Surah 3:45-46 and Bukhari, Vol. 4, No. 641) and if Muhammad had many sins (See Surah 47:19 and Bukhari Vol. 8, Number 319), why is Muhammad considered the “good example” (Surah 33:21) and emulated more than Jesus?

Things to ponder (con’t)

5. If whoever associates anything with Allah has devised a great sin (per Surahs 4:48, 4:116, and 5:72) , shouldn’t that also apply to Muhammad who is cited as a partner to Allah sixty-four times in the Quran (and mostly in the final Surahs that were handed down)? See Surah 2:279, 3:32, 3:132, 4:13, 4:14, 4:69, 5:33, 8:1, 8:13, 8:20, 8:24, 8:27, 8:41, 8:46, 9:1, 9:3, 9:16, 9:29, 9:54, 9:59, 9:63, 9:71, 9:74, 9:80, 9:84, 9:90, 9:91, 9:94, 9:107, and so forth)
6. If Allah would kill Muhammad for lying (Surah 69:44-46), is it possible that Muhammad died so suddenly because of false revelations inserted into the Quran? (Example: The Quran states in Surah 9:111 that both the Torah and the Gospel tell their believers to “kill and be killed” in order to get to Paradise.)
7. If Jesus is to return on Judgment Day to judge mankind (per Surah 43:61 and Bukhari, Vol. 4, No. 657), wouldn’t it be better to follow the teachings of Jesus rather than the teachings of Muhammad and the Quran (which contains no teachings of Jesus)?

Living in America offers freedoms which may be unheard of in your country:

- Absolute freedom of speech
- Freedom to peacefully protest against things that are offensive
- Absolute freedom of conscience – even the freedom to have no religion
- Full enjoyment of civil rights-to a much greater extent than in countries governed by Sharia Law
- A government which is answerable and responsible to the will of the citizens, not the other way around

While living in America, you can:

- Ask questions about Islam and get truthful answers
- Reflect on what your religious faith means personally
- Discuss things that can’t be discussed in your own country
- Make friends with unbelievers to see if they truly are the “vilest of animals” per Surah 8:55
- Perhaps even visit a church without being shamed or punished

An Inquiry Into Islam
InquiryIntoIslam.com

Political Islam
PoliticalIslam.com

Bulletin of the Oppression of Women in Islam bulletinoftheoppressionofwomen.com

Middle East Media Research Institute
memri.org

American Thinker
Americanthinker.com

The Religion of Peace
Thereligionofpeace.com

The United West
Theunitedwest.com

The Religion of Peace
Thereligionofpeace.com

FOR MORE INFORMATION WRITE TO:

CounterJihadCoalition@gmail.com

Are You A Muslim Born In A Foreign Country?

You are very fortunate to be studying in America